

To

Kiran Kumar,
Engineering Manager,
Carbon Recycling International,
Reykjavik, Iceland

Sub: Summary of Experience at Carbon Recycling International

Dear Kiran,

It has not been long since the conclusion of my internship at CRI and yet I have already put into practice what I have learnt. My time at CRI was most enjoyable and I would have been happy to continue my work experience with you had it been possible.

Having chosen Energy as my major in my Economics Master degree, I was aiming to gather experience in a company which had this subject at its core. Carbon Recycling International was just that!

Learning about the company dynamics at CRI was interesting on a number of levels. My colleagues were always willing to lend a hand and everyone was approached equally, a quality not easily found as an intern. Though working hours were long in some periods, the energy levels were always kept high. Each intern was challenged in a variety of ways and the progress was kept on track.

Accuracy is of utmost importance at CRI and one has to garner the deepest understanding of the subject matter one deals with. I learnt how to use the best information at hand, how to triple check, how to present my research and how to hand in something 100% complete. Learning about oral presentations in the form of clear visuals and leaving the audience with a few key take-away points was also vital.

Overall, the knowledge I gained has been set in my memory and the skills I learnt will be useful on any path I may find myself.

I am grateful to have had this experience that challenged me to improve my working techniques. The mentorship and feedback I received will go a long way and I cannot thank you enough for that!

Yours sincerely,

Emma Micklem